formity with the practice of the church, but a lawsuit would take place on the morning of the 11th at four o'clock. Mr. Miller's attention was then attracted to a man carrying a sack full, and in reply to the question he was said they had been carrying a sack full of money. He then asked for the quantity of sack used, he said to Mr. Walker, "Here is another instance," Mr. Walker asked the young man, "How much was it?" The man was not entered, and he replied that it was not his duty to come there before six o'clock, and he thought the other young man on duty before him had made the entry. Thereupon Mr. Walker, in a
